FROM THE DESK OF THE PRESIDENT

When the Center for Leadership Development was incorporated on January 3, 1977, who among us envisioned the year when CLD would celebrate the fortieth year of its founding? Who were the visionaries? What were the leaders thinking? What were their challenges? In commemoration of this momentous occasion in our organization's history, this fall CLD will release a book to tell the wonderful story of CLD.

The leadership, vision and tenacity of CLD's founding board members and executives have led to the creation of a model program experience which today empowers hundreds of African American and minority youth to become business, professional and community leaders. Because of the generous philanthropic contributions of countless individuals and businesses that invested their wealth, wisdom and work, CLD stands as a luminous example of how community partners can unite to deliver superb youth programming. I offer my deepest gratitude to the founding CLD board of directors, Mr. Henry Bundles, Mrs. Helen Baker-Bundles and to all who invested to make and sustain CLD.

During this 40th Anniversary, we honor those founding leaders by striving to build upon their visionary foundation. CLD's strategic plan is entitled, "A Center of Hope: Envisioning an Exemplary Youth Experience in Indianapolis". This plan calls for CLD to increase its annual participant count from 4,000 to 8,000; increase the number of services rendered from 7,500 to over 15,000; and also grow participation from our most distressed neighborhoods. The plan also calls for CLD to add 15,000 square feet of space and to increase our annual operating budget to $4 million.

CLD is immeasurably grateful to all who have supported and sustained CLD, and we express our gratitude by working diligently each day. We believe that one of the finest ways to honor those who have laid the foundation for CLD is to leverage their investments and sacrifices to move CLD and the city of Indianapolis to a new frontier of life-changing youth impact. We thank you for your trust.

AND THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

This is the Center for Leadership Development's 40th Anniversary. What a milestone and what a blessing!

Think of it. Those who enrolled in the first CLD classes are now in their mid-50's. Think about the difference CLD made in their lives and the difference their lives made in the professions they entered, the community's they became involved in, the way they raised their own families, and the values learned at CLD that they demonstrate and instill in every aspect of their lives. I know that the world is better because of their lives, and that their lives are better because of CLD.

I also like to think of how CLD has evolved to meet the changing needs of the young people it serves, how it maintains its own relevance and how it has instilled the fundamental values needed to succeed into almost three generations of eager young people.

As I reflect on my own involvement in CLD from the very beginning and how rewarding this experience has been, I think about the social tensions of the 1960's and 1970's and how the black and white communities in Indianapolis came together, rose above those tensions by concentrating on the potential of its young people and, in so doing, created something very special.

So, as we celebrate the 40th Anniversary of CLD, let us also celebrate the spirit that brought us together as a community to create this sustained effort to develop the full potential of our young people.

This is a special year for CLD, but then every year is a special year for CLD because every year brings more and more young people through our doors who are eager to develop themselves and realize their full potential. What a privilege to be a part of an organization that shows them how this is done.

It is noteworthy when something this pure and this authentic sustains itself far beyond the expectations of its founders.

Yours for the development of youth,

Dennis E. Bland, Esq.
President

Thomas A. King
Chairman of the Board

ABOUT CLD

For 40 years, the Center for Leadership Development (CLD) has served as a beacon of college and career readiness for families in Indianapolis. Our mission is to foster the advancement of minority youth in Central Indiana as future professional, business and community leaders by providing experiences that encourage personal development and educational attainment. Our vision is to establish CLD as one of the most preeminent centers in the nation for inspiring the highest character and leadership skills, and the highest academic, college and career achievement in African American youth.

CLD's Principles for Success are the core values which we believe are fundamental to developing youth and preparing them for life long success:

- Character Development
- Educational Excellence
- Leadership Effectiveness
- Community Service
- Career Achievement

CLD delivers values-based program experiences, academic and family counseling, tutoring and classroom leadership by college-educated professionals and college readiness workshops at low or no cost to students, parents and guardians and adult learners. This holistic approach distinguishes CLD from other youth serving organizations.

PROGRAMS AND INITIATIVES

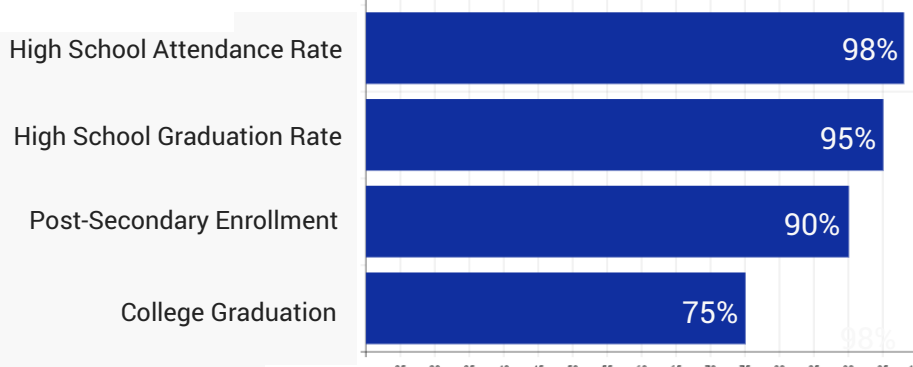

ABOUT OUR PROGRAMS

For 40 years, CLD has demonstrated its commitment to transformative programming for students and families by continuing to provide values-based, results-driven guidance and instruction from caring, local college educated professionals. We are proud to offer 15 program experiences that help address the persistent opportunity gaps faced by young people of color. Our values-based curricula provides students with a holistic understanding of what it takes to achieve academically, critical socialization skills, ability to set clear college and career goals, overcoming adversity and persevering along their journey towards success. It is our goal that every student we touch transitions with a renewed sense of potential, confidence in self and a clearly defined direction for the future.

PROGRAM RESULTS

In 2016, you helped us serve 4,037 students, families and individuals with 8,852 services. Our students represented 270 Indianapolis-area schools, and our programs achieved a robust 93% retention rate.

2016 CLD ALUMNI OUTCOMES

IMPACT: High school graduation rates for African-American youth in Indiana averaged 76.9%. Whereas, 95% of all CLD participants successfully graduated from high school, 90% went on to enroll in post-secondary education and 75% graduated from college in 6 years or less.

"Being involved with CLD has helped my son so much. He has embraced the phrase 'say it with your chest', and has gained so much confidence with public speaking. I always knew my son would grow into being a leader, but the programs at CLD have polished and sharpened his leadership strengths."

- Project MR. Parent

COLLEGE PREP INSTITUTE

The vision of CLD's College Prep Institute (CPI) is to create one of the nation's leading community-based resource centers that strategically improves high school and college graduation rates, while building a culture of scholarship and learning among African American youth.

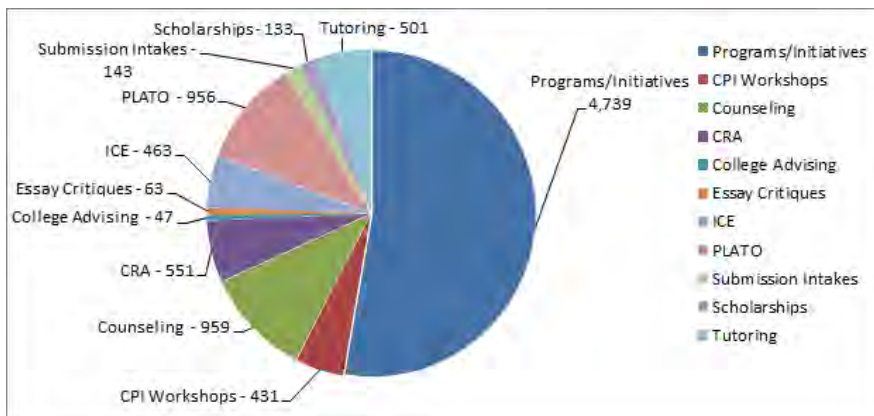

Through the College Prep Institute, CLD strives to catalyze successful college admissions, persistence, completion, and career fulfillment by reexamining and redefining what makes a student and family truly prepared for college prior to arriving.

ALUMNI INVOLVEMENT

GIVING OF THEIR "TIME, TALENT AND TREASURE"

CLD Alumni are held in the highest esteem and are pivotal to CLD's overall success. Through our Alumni we see the impact programming is having on transforming lives and building future business and community leaders across Indianapolis and the nation. CLD Alumni help to advance CLD's mission by passing the torch and ensuring that more minority youth benefit from CLD programs and services just as they had the opportunity to do.

2016 ALUMNI IN ACTION

Alumni donors made history by raising $23,032, while the Alumni Association raised an additional $1,650.

CLD Alumni volunteered 162 times as facilitators at 15 programs and CLD's signature events.

"In time, on time, every time, except for a little bit ahead of time, & that's even better time". I am incredibly grateful for this doctrine. Before joining CLD, I was terrible at keeping track of my duties and deadlines. I would wait until the last minute to do things and buckle under the pressure of trying to finish on time. Today, I have so many responsibilities that I would drown if I didn't manage my time properly and prepare in advance. I count this as one of the most important lessons I've ever learned.

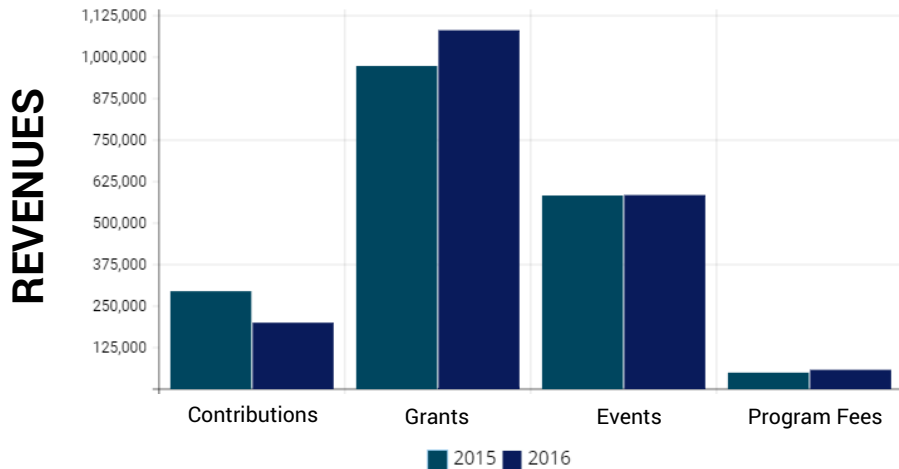

– Sean Strother, Tagkast Founder and CLD Alum ('98)

CLD ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Participants who have graduated from CLD's Self-Discovery/Career Exploration Project (SD/CE) become eligible members of the CLD Alumni Association. The CLDAA assists CLD with fundraising efforts and program recruitment. Alumni are involved in everything from facilitating classes to volunteering for CLD events. The CLDAA also provides alumni with the opportunity to network and meet fellow members. Over the past 40 years CLD has developed and nurtured an alumni community of over 11,000 productive citizens who contribute to the growth and success of our programs, city, state and nation.

Why do you support CLD?

"I choose to support CLD because I pride myself on being a humble servant very much like everyone connected to CLD. I BELIEVE in the message, I BELIEVE in the mission, I BELIEVE in the vision. CLD is making an impact in young people's lives who may never otherwise get the opportunity to hear YOU ARE a competitive winner! The mission is to build our youth to be accountable, demonstrate positive energy, to walk with integrity and honesty, to always be active listeners, communicators, and develop themselves as leaders!"

What would you tell others to encourage them to support CLD?

"I would encourage others to support CLD because they are achieving real results. CLD practices listening, motivating, coaching and developing young people. I have a young mister myself and if I am trusting my most prized jewel with CLD, then why wouldn't you? They are building humble servants in the community and teaching them to go out and do great work and be great leaders!"
